The New Life

Immigration bans, border walls and homeland security are in the news. Before transoceanic air travel, the Atlantic Ocean was a natural barrier to easy access for anyone coming to the New World from the Old World. Yet, when life became hopeless in their native lands, hordes of European immigrants endured unimaginable adversity in order to cross the Atlantic by ship.

Those comers to our shores left behind their old lives. Knowing they would never see their families again, they bid them and virtually everything they owned farewell. They came because they saw a ray of hope - an opportunity to build a better life by assimilating into the American society.

Their sea voyage was an ordeal. Insecure, like bewildered cattle, they were loaded onto austere ships where they had little to eat, few (or no) sanitary facilities, no medical services and for many no shelter. Consequently, illness abounded. Many died. After many long, tiring, toll-taking days at sea, the incomers were homesick and almost defeated.

Then, when the Statue of Liberty was spotted, a ship's weary passengers would come alive with cheers, singing, shouts of joy and tears of happiness. It symbolized their hopes and dreams and they were greeted by Emma Lazarus' inscription: Give me your tired, you poor, Your huddled masses, yearning to breathe free, The wretched refuse of your teeming shore, Send these, the homeless, tempest tossed, to me: I lift up my lamp beside the golden door.

Christians of all times and those immigrants have some things in common. As the immigrant had to give up his old life so must the Christian. Paul said: “Mortify therefore your members, which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence and covetousness which is idolatry; for which thing's sake the wrath of God cometh on the children of disobedience; in the which, ye also walked some time, when ye lived in them. But now ye also put off all these; anger wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth. Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds and have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him” (Colossians 3:5:10).

Sometimes, the Christian, like the immigrant, must separate from his earthly family, even though he loves it so much. Christ has let one and all know, “He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me.” (cf. Mt. 10:34-38).

The Christian must be willing to sacrifice everything that he owns, as the immigrants did. Jesus said, “If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me.” (Mt. 16:24) To this, Paul adds, “I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God which is your reasonable service” (Romans 12:1).

As the immigrants would be no longer citizens of their homelands, the Christian ceases to be a citizen of the world. Regarding the world, all Christians should be as Paul, who said, “But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world” (Galatians 6:14). Yet, there is no doubt that Christ can give us a better and happier life. Jesus Himself said, “I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly” (John 10:10).

No lifeless statue invites the Christian into the heavenly kingdom, but the Son of God does, saying: “Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls” (Mt. 11:28-29). Our Savior holds no lamp beside a door—He is the light, He is the door. Jesus said, “I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life” (John 8:12). And, He said, “I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture” (John 10:9).

In John 14:6, Jesus said, “I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.” Therefore, one may safely conclude that Jesus should occupy the Christian’s heart. Yes, when the Christian is greeted and welcomed by Christ he rejoices (cf. Acts 8:39). Christ brings peace, happiness and joy into the life of the Christian. So much so, that the Christian eagerly awaits the return of Jesus. The Christian with John will say, “Come, Lord Jesus” (Revelation 22:20) and with Paul will say, “I have the desire to depart, and to be with Christ; which is far better” (Philippians 1:23).
